DUE TO COVID-19 SCHOOL FACILITY CLOSURES, 50 MILLION K-12 PUBLIC SCHOOL STUDENTS HAVE HAD TO LEARN REMOTELY FROM HOME

50 MILLION STUDENTS

15 MILLION TO 16 MILLION (-30%) of these students lack adequate internet or devices to sustain effective distance learning at home.

9 MILLION of these students lack both adequate internet and devices to sustain effective distance learning at home.

Even in states with the smallest divides, ~1 in 4 students still lack adequate internet.

For states with the largest divides, ~half of students lack adequate internet.

Furthermore, up to 400,000 teachers can’t teach because of lack of internet.

Nearly all students in the US are expected to be learning remotely in the Fall; the digital divide will prevent many students from accessing the education they deserve.
Romy Drucker is a deputy director for the K-12 Education Program at the Walton Family Foundation. In this role, she oversees team operations and grantmaking strategy. Prior to joining the foundation, Romy was the co-founder and CEO of The 74, an award-winning nonprofit news organization focused on education. Prior to launching The 74, Romy worked at the New York City Department of Education on Mayor Bloomberg and Chancellor Klein’s transformational Children First reforms. Romy served as chief of staff for the Division of Portfolio Planning working on efforts including new school development, school improvement and accountability, and early childhood education. Prior to that, Romy served as the special assistant to Chancellor Joel I. Klein and as deputy to the Chief Executive Officer of The Fund for Public Schools, which has raised several hundred million dollars for innovative educational programs serving New York City’s 1.1 million students.

Romy graduated cum laude from Yale College with a B.A. in literature and Spanish language & literature and earned her M.B.A. from Harvard Business School.
Eboney Younger has one of the best roles at Cox Communications as the Product Manager for Connect2Compete. Connect2Compete is Cox’s affordable broadband adoption program, which has helped connect over 700,000 low-income families with school-aged children since its inception in 2012. In this dynamic role, Eboney has both product lifecycle and programmatic responsibility. Eboney champions digital equity & inclusion through partnerships with various stakeholders and by advocating for underserved communities. Eboney was recently presented with a Synergy Award for her efforts involving Cox’s response to COVID-19. In less than three months, her team connected over 31,000 families to quality, in-home broadband.

Before this role in product management & technology, Eboney spent fourteen years in human resources as a business partner and employment practices expert. Eboney resides in Atlanta, GA, where she’s leading in several community organizations, including LEAD Atlanta, Junior League of Atlanta, and SHRM-Atlanta.
Cox provided a critical role in helping children get connected during the initial COVID peak and end of school year period.
